Subject: Ben Cannon/6x7 Networks

Hi guys,

I saw that you filed a large lawsuit (CGC-21-597259) against several defendants in connection with purported breaches of contract and other claims arising out of the fake telecom company 6x7 Networks, LLC. Incidentally, 6x7 Networks, LLC is "FTB Forfeited" with the Secretary of State, and the other LLC's that Ben claims to run simply do not exist.

In case you don't have my lengthy writeup on Ben and 6x7 already, here you go:

<https://www.andrewwatters.com/hall-of-shame/6x7/>

Somehow, Ben has been able to convince several attorneys to help her with her cases over the years. In most of these situations, the lawyers end up withdrawing or simply not doing anything in the cases. Example, my civil trial with Ben concerning the above is set for this Monday the 28th, and Ben's lawyer is planning a last-minute withdrawal that I learned of about five days before the trial. Ben has a separate lawsuit against one of her customers in SF Superior Court for millions of dollars in which nothing has happened in almost a year and it's headed toward dismissal for lack of prosecution.

Separately, your client has lately been writing the NANOG (North American Network Operators Group) mailing list with some concerning messages that make it sound like she is posing as a global telecom influencer. She writes these under the moniker "Lady Benjamin Cannon of Glencoe," purporting to speak from a position of superior knowledge when the vast majority of NANOG mailing list members have actual and more significant telecom experience. Ben has been criticized for spamming the list with self-promotion as well.

In any case, I read your first amended complaint in the new case, and I'm shaking my head. To say that Charles and the other defendants are transphobic-- and making transphobia the centerpiece of your legal theories-- is absolutely shameful. Charles has been nothing but considerate and respectful of Ben's gender identity, even in our private conversations. In my own experience, I was also kind and respectful of Ben's preference and pronouns, even though she was (as of mid-2020) merely a transvestite and had no apparent intention of having the mentary & transvestite and had no apparent intention of having the surgery. I still use her pronouns and respect her identity even though I steadfastly refuse to use her fake royal title.

I also want to note that Ben has repeatedly claimed on fee waiver applications and elsewhere that she is indigent and unable to afford counsel, yet she recently certified in discovery responses prepared by you in another case that she makes around $81,000 per month-- apparently because she is claiming wage loss and found it convenient to claim that figure. But anyway, someone who makes $81,000 per month does not squat in a storage shed (see video on my web page) that doesn't even have a bathroom-- and that has a garden hose discharging her wastewater into a public storm drain (separate video). This is ridiculous, guys!

Finally, Ben is currently trying to scam the Ukrainian government in connection with the Ukraine war. I'm in the process of gathering documentation from the folks who have reached out to me about that, and it will be added to my writeup soon.

I am not writing on behalf of any of the defendants in your new case or seeking anything in particular. I am simply writing as a fellow attorney who thinks you are enabling her and that you might want to reconsider the latest case before Ben's fraudulent scheme gets any bigger. I fully expect that at least Charlie and Rena will file a 128.7 motion and bounce your complaint, if they so desire, but I leave that to their eventual counsel.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best,

Andrew Watters

Ben,

It was a pleasure to meet you this evening at The Battery.

I look forward to working with you. I think we can deal in the perimeters discussed tonight:

> Steve being granted 9% of 6x7 Networks, LLC as an Advisor at nominal strike price to minimize tax impact.
> Then, Steve investing $1mm (worth of Uber Technologies, Inc.) into 6x7 Networks, Inc. at $100mm valuation to "mark" the round and open it up to another $9mm +/-.

At the end of the day, Steve wants to own 10% to make it worth his while and I believe that is fair given the $, connections, and effort.

Agreed? Do you want me to work with your attorney to get it papered?

Hey Sean! I think this will be the time we move to a C Corp structure! Given the timeline of nov - I'd like to push back on the valuation and do 1% for $1m - we've got non insubstantial hard assets - and we're not going to do a venture round with this, it's past that point in the company's life, but the 100m valuation is going to be key to obtaining the debt (I will eventually 20-yr finance most capital construction, which will be mostly fiber cables and tens/hundreds of millions of dollars worth, and then datacenter physical assets.) we ultimately want with the banks. Lmk your thoughts. I've got a balance sheet showing approx $260m - of course this stuff is hard to value. But here's another way: <https://www.datacenterknowledge.com/archives/2010/06/02/digital-realty-buys-365-main-sites-for-725m>

Hi Ben,

Steve told me that you two came to terms for him to acquire 10% of 6x7 Networks for a $1mm block of Uber stock.

I can handle the paperwork for the stock side of that trade as I have a forward contract (stock is locked up until mid-Nov). Do you want to put me in touch with your attorney to figure out what needs to be done on the LLC side?

Or, if you have plans to become a C-Corp, this would be the time to do it perhaps.
